

ART GUIDE

local art + artists
Ironwood, Michigan

art for everyone

W elcome to the first edition of the Ironwood Art Guide.

This guide showcases Ironwood's vibrant art community. We're proud to share our impressive art filled town alive with art inside and out all year long. Nearly ten years ago our catalyst was Downtown Art Place, now it's grown to inspire many other artists and businesses that feature art on their walls. This great art vibe has attracted more creative people to get involved in community events that offer art, food, family fun, and music.

Ironwood has a great walkable downtown to Find Your Art. Enjoy quaint little resting places like the flowering Pocket Park, activities in Depot Park where Ironwood Chamber of Commerce resides and Festival Ironwood thrives in July. Take a walk along the paved Iron Belle Trail to the Montreal River or bike the trail all the way through to Bessemer and Ramsay. Downtown Art Park has a selfie station across the street from the Ironwood Theatre marquee that enhances the art murals waiting to be discovered.

The Emberlight Festival propelled us to the next level in the arts with eight weeks of live performances, International Film Festival, Art in the Park and art exhibits. The City Square encompassing a half city block offers families a splash pad and First Friday events with a large art vendor market, a free family art project and live music on stage during the summer months. During winter months, there are many fun things to do in downtown Ironwood. City Square offers a warm gathering place around a gas fire pit, "Finnish" Line for SISU Ski Fest, a winter ice skating rink and holiday-lighted Jack Frost Parade the first Saturday in December.

“Public art is a great way to get people to connect.”

PUBLIC ART

From Blank Canvas to Creative Community Landscape

Take a look around you. You can find many forms of public art throughout Ironwood, Bessemer and Wakefield, in parks, along the Iron Belle Trail and on buildings. Art is woven into the fabric of the community everywhere you look.

DOWNTOWN ART PARK

Murals by Artist Kate Greenough, Dan Perotti and Stephanie Carey. Chalk wall art, painted rock garden and painted houses by area children and local artists.

AN ARTFUL GLIMPSE OF HISTORIC IRONWOOD

Public art is a cultural asset available to all. It's a way to enrich a diverse community and celebrate Ironwood's vibrant history, culture, and environment through art in public spaces.

HISTORIC IRONWOOD THEATRE

Built in 1928, in the Italianate architectural style, the theatre possesses all of the features you would expect of an early 20th century theatre: ornate wall and ceiling hand-painted murals and plenty of gilded ornaments. Guided tours by appointment. 113 E. Aurora St., Ironwood, MI
ironwoodtheatre.net 906-932-0618

IRONWOOD MEMORIAL BUILDING

Over 34 historic photographs are displayed in the hallways of the Ironwood Memorial Building along with 47 historic stained glass windows and a bronze statue of a WWI doughboy. Also an original painting by Arie Lahti hangs in the Women's Club Room. A self-guided tour is available on weekdays. 213 S. Marquette St., Ironwood, MI

NEE-GAW-NEE-GAW-BOW

Carved from a single piece of pine donated by Ottawa National Forest, this carving honors the Chippewa and translates to Leading Man. Peter “Wolf” Toth - artist. Located on Sunday Lake in Wakefield, MI.

the ART OF FINDING AN ARTIST

We are fortunate to have a large number of artists and craftspeople living in our area. Visit Downtown Art Place Gallery (DAP), it's a great start to view over 70 local and regional artists work. The DAP is in the heart of downtown Ironwood and is a central resource for additional art information.

The following list features some of the artists and vendors we've connected with. Our art community is vibrant, strong and grows with every new art opportunity.

FIRST FRIDAYS IN IRONWOOD

The First Friday of every month brings special happenings to Downtown Ironwood's new City Square. In addition to City Square happenings, visit select downtown businesses on Aurora, Suffolk and Lowell Streets for late night shopping and various events.

First Friday includes community art and artists, pop-up shops and food vendors, all in City Square from 4-7 pm. Live music starts in the evening on City Square outdoor stage. Grab a chair or blanket to settle in for a wonderful evening. Discover the DAP gallery, extended restaurant and retail store hours, and an extra treat, a seasonal Farmer's and Artisan's market which makes First Fridays special. Historic Ironwood Theatre has a family movie night by donation. First Friday provides venues for a wide variety of monthly theme-focused activities for everyone including free art activities for youth.

Check out the community calendar at felivelife.org or visit the Ironwood Chamber and their website at ironwoodchamber.org for a full list of First Friday activities.

For craft/vendor registration contact Anne Atwood Reimer at anne@powderhoundlodge.com or Ar Schneller at arschneller@gmail.com

MAKERSPACE

Saint Maud's is a new maker space in the area. Karl Zinsmaster, owner of Saint Maud's, brings his natural creative talents and furniture making skills from Minneapolis College of Art and Design. It's a wonderful place to gather, work and learn from each other. This learning center is in a renovated church at 669g Hibbert St., Pence, WI.

It's an impressive space to learn in a great organized workshop/ wood-shop atmosphere. You can use the space, their tools and build something or they offer project assistance to teach you. There are studio spaces for rent and community spaces for meetings and events. Looking to take or teach a group class or workshop, add that to your list. Join as a daily, monthly or annual member, but first make an appointment to visit them, you'll be glad you did. saintmauds.com

The DAP Pottery Studio located in the lower level of the Downtown Art Place is a 1,000 sq. ft. pottery studio dedicated to ceramics. The studio features six pottery wheels, two electric kilns, plenty of storage, and a classroom.

The DAP STUDIOS are where you'll find artists, basket makers and authors at work upstairs in their studios. See original artwork in oils and watercolors, handcrafted jewelry, origami, photography, mixed media, and the Velin Gallery. Located at 107 E. Aurora St., Ironwood, MI.

If you love seeing vintage woodwork and tile, visit this historic three story building built in 1924, it feels like a step back in time!

Located two doors over from the DAP Gallery.

PERFORMANCE ART

HISTORIC IRONWOOD THEATRE

The Theatre hosts a variety of theatre, comedy, musical acts, special events, community functions and more. The Historic Ironwood Theatre continues to function as a landmark venue on Ironwood's Aurora Street while retaining the distinctive flavor of years gone by, much like Ironwood itself.

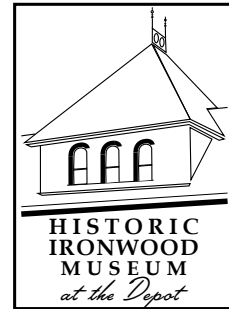

113 E. Aurora St., Ironwood, MI 906-932-0618
ironwoodtheatre.net

Theatre North is among the three oldest volunteer community theatres in the country, entering its 59th season this fall. We present musicals along with a wide variety of dramas and comedies to the welcoming public, both old favorites and contemporary works.

In addition to performing opportunities, many volunteer artists engage in designing our sets, properties, and costumes. The eight murals on the exterior of our building were painted by local artists in 2002. Our productions generally are presented in the late fall, March, and June.
